Buckingham Palace has served as the official London residence of Britain's sovereigns since 1837.

Today the State Rooms are used extensively by The Queen and Members of the Royal Family to receive and entertain their guests on State, ceremonial and official occasions. During August and September when The Queen makes her annual visit to Scotland, the Palace's nineteen state rooms are open to visitors.

The State Rooms are lavishly furnished with some of the greatest treasures from the Royal Collection - paintings by Rembrandt, Rubens, Poussin and Canaletto; sculpture by Canova;

The Palace's garden is home to thirty different species of bird and more than 350 different wild flowers, some extremely rare. Visitors end their tour with a walk along the south side of the garden, with splendid views of the west front of the Palace and the famous lake.

The Throne Room, sometimes used during Queen Victoria's reign for Court gatherings and as a second dancing room.

In the company of an expert guide, the Exclusive Tour offers a very special insight into the history and use of the State Rooms, and the works of art on display.

The cost per person is £65.00 and includes a copy of the official guidebook, a glass of champagne and 20% discount in the Royal Collection shop.

The tour lasts approximately two hours and takes place at selected times and on selected dates during April, August and September. Tickets must be pre-booked. There is limited availability, with a maximum number of 30 places on each tour.

A typical visit lasts between 2 and 2½ hours.

Visitor information.

Lavatories and baby-care facilities are located at the end of the visit.

For safety reasons, pushchairs are not permitted in the State Rooms. They must be checked in and reclaimed at the exit. Baby-carriers are available for loan.

Photography and filming (for private use only) and use of mobile phones are permitted in the Palace garden. Mobile phones must be switched off elsewhere on the visitor route.

The shop sells a wide range of merchandise, much of which is designed exclusively for the Royal Collection.

The Garden Café is open throughout the Palace's visiting hours, 09:45-18:30 (last admission 15:45).

Use our special family audio guide to explore the Palace with our two reporters James and Rachel.

Our activities are designed for family groups with children aged 5-11. Children must be accompanied by an adult at all times.
